Celebrate the artistic achievements of African-Americans in the early 20th century, when art, music and poetry exploded out of Harlem! The literary and musical gifts of these pioneers inspired future generations, and continues to influence world culture today. Songs such as Honeysuckle Rose, St. Louis Blues, God Bless the Child, & Aint' Misbehavin'; humourous skits based on writer Langston Hughes's "Jesse B Simple" dialogues; and poems such as "The Party" and "Jump Back Honey" round out this high energy performance. All aboard!
